Foreword

We, the editors and staff members of TIOT 1948, approached the task of turning out a successful yearbook with mixed feelings of elation and wonder. Leaving little time for dwelling upon these emotions, we immediately set to work. Oh, the madness of the many hours spent at planning our theme, at pasting and cutting lay-outs, the trips to the engravers and the consequent climb up the memorable and notorious "Stairway to Heaven". Despite the weighty trials and tribulations endured, YOUTH came through the victor. As we look back now, it is with feelings of relief and gratitude that we recall the happy times spent in the construction of this, our memorial to our own YOUTH.

"To be young is to be one of the Immortals"

And her sons and daughters, too
Are all the true supporters
Of her glorious flag of blue."*

Dedication

It is altogether fitting that this yearbook, whose theme is Youth, should be dedicated to one whose viewpoint is young and whose understanding of and sympathy with young people have endeared her to us all.

In gratitude, therefore, we dedicate the TIOT of 1948 to our friend, adviser, and teacher, Mrs. Riley. She has been our ally and fellow-worker whose ever-present aid, wisdom, enthusiasm, and guidance have brought this log-book of our tempestuous high school days to a successful completion.

Our heartfelt thanks, no matter how sincere, could never express our appreciation, so may this dedication in its small way say "thank you".

"Oh, Youth, Whose Hope is High"

High School at last! How long we had looked forward to becoming part of the School on the Hill! Our first eager enthusiasm was only slightly dampened by the rather aloof air of the upper classmen,—the common cries of the Traffic Officers, "Wrong stairs!" and "Other side!"—the seemingly-hidden biology and home rooms, and the other problems that beset our ways and served to initiate us into the society of Norwood High.

To start the class of '48 on the way to what we hoped would be success and renown, we elected class officers. As a result of the balloting, Jack Coughlin became our first President; John Erickson, Vice-president; Priscilla Donahue, Secretary; Marian Murphy, Girls' Treasurer; Richard Tamoulonis, Boys' Treasurer; and Donald Meeers and Patricia Blanchot the A. A. representatives.

The Sophomore Party was the big event of our first year and everyone co-operated to make it a gala affair. Gay decorations, refreshments, a smooth orchestra and the talents displayed by our classmates all contributed toward an enjoyable evening for all. Remember little Kenny and Donny with their big horns, and our singing stars, Thea and Kay Simoni, and Dotty with her super rendition of "Temptation"!!

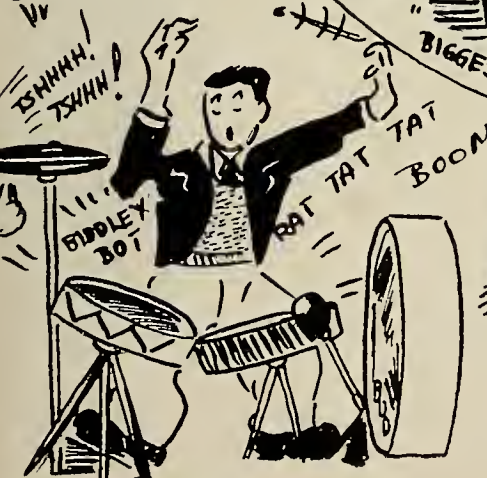

After our party, we had to settle back into a rather routine way of life. At the football games we marvelled at little Pete, sighed over Tommy Driscoll, and literally shook the bleachers in our fervent cheers for victory, but lady luck wasn't with us that year, although we really had a fighting team. We struggled through classes trying to discover what made the lowly worm tick, and endeavoring to digest the details of Caesar's sallies. We studied geometry, baseball, and Mr. Kiley in one class, and were still trying to solve the mystery of the lost key in typing. Soon the basketball season rolled around and we enthusiastically followed the team to frequent victories. We will never forget the solemn and empty feeling that pervaded the school when we lost our principal, Mr. Thompson, whom we had grown to love and respect in the short time we knew him.

Our first year, like all sophomore years, might be called a period of "watchful waiting". We sophs had to content ourselves with sitting back and letting the seniors and juniors share most of the lime-light while we watched, supported, and enjoyed their dances, plays, and proms. However, while we were anxiously awaiting the time when we would be the ones who were called upon to keep the activity ball rolling, we were formulating plans, hopes, and ideas as to how we could make our next two grown-up years the best ever at Norwood High.

"To be Young was Very Heaven"

Proudly displaying our new class rings—symbol of the big year that lay ahead—we enthusiastically started our second year at Norwood High with our new principal, Mr. Hayden. We cheered ourselves hoarse when our football team, under the direction of our new coach, Mr. Scafati, came out victorious in the first game of the season, and we were on hand at every other game, making our presence known and doing our part to help keep our boys on the winning path. When the time came for the mammoth torchlight parade on the eve of the annual Turkey Day contest, we had our float and cheering section, and Cilla and Jo were up front, leading the band with their usual zip and pep.

This year Joe Uzdavinis, capably served as our Head Man, ably assisted by Vice-president, Priscilla Donahue; Secretary, Janet McKeown; Girls' Treasurer, Nancy Chandler; Boys' Treasurer, Ronald Woodworth, and A. A. representatives, Butch Walsh, Dorothy Collins, and Ruth Anderson, who took over when Dotty changed to the Peabody School.

Soon it was time for our Junior Party and what a grand success it was! The weather and the winter decorations may have suggested cold and snow, but the atmosphere in the gym on the evening of January 24 was gay, and warm, and friendly because we were all enjoying ourselves. We still remember Joyce with her lighted batons, Vi and her flying feet, Master of Ceremonies Monteith, and all the other entertainers!

We came back from Christmas vacation rested and eager for more study, bigger accomplishments and better times. Classes continued. We still chuckled over the algebraic phenomena in Mr. Dunn's classes, learned French, Spanish, and the durability of the lowly wastebasket with Miss Johngren, "trotted" gaily along with Virgil and his stalwart buddies, and managed to survive a fierce Civil War in history. Then there were basketball games and hockey games, and we gave both teams our fullest support—and they deserved it. Class meetings were a refreshing innovation this year and our hearty congratulations went to Jack Monbouquette on his election as Vice-president of the Eastern Massachusetts Student Council Association, and to Jack Coughlin who became Secretary of the State Student Council Association.

On May 23 came the climax of the Junior year—our prom. With carousel ponies prancing on the walls, and a smooth orchestra playing, every couple danced away a wonderful evening. The Class of '48 had scored another hit! When we had recovered from the after effects of prom night, life on the hill continued as usual until, before we knew it, it was June and time for us to say good-bye to the Seniors with the traditional Class Day. As we watched them leave, we were perhaps a little sad, realizing that in another short year, we would be the ones who would be ending our joyous, carefree, high school days, but we brightened at the thought of the wonderful year that lay ahead of us—our Senior Year at Norwood High.

"Youth Now Flies on Feathered Feet"

Summer came and went. September arrived and with lighter but firmer steps, greater determination, and more confidence and enthusiasm, we again ascended the hill to Norwood High. Could it possibly be that we, the Class of '48, were now the Senior Class? Ah, yes, we were the ones who now occupied the choice seats in assembly, surveying the poor, perplexed sophs in their initial state of confusion and adjustment! However, we were reminded that with this year comes responsibility, dignity, and leadership, as we truly were now "Seniors" at Norwood High.

For this, our last and biggest year, we chose Jack Coughlin to be our chief executive. Priscilla Donahue continued as Vice-president, Janet McKeown reassumed secretarial duties. Nancy Chandler again filled the job of Girls' Treasurer; Walter Glaser was Boys' Treasurer, and Gloria Bianchini and Butch Walsh represented us on the A. A. Council.

Meanwhile the football squad was working toward a successful season, hampered slightly at times by the flying arrows of the archery enthusiasts, or by the spasmodic yells of the ever-practicing cheer leaders. We kept up the football spirit with rallies, snappy programs, and new cheers; our team was good and we were proud of them! The "New Look" was cautiously beginning to creep into school, and for every long skirt, the cuffs of the boys' pants went up another inch in rebellion, but there was a limit! An active and energetic Debating Club was being organized, a new Glee Club was formed, and let us not neglect to mention the Horizon Club, or the mysterious Sparky Club. The undefeated Rangers' basketball team was fast gaining popularity and the Order of the Cwazy Wacky Wabbits, an organization of dubious worth, was officially established.

Then came the period of tryouts and rehearsals for our Senior Play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", and we had the talent for every part. A lot of energy and time went into the production, with plenty of fun in between, and the final results were a source of satisfaction to the audience, class and cast alike.

Christmas vacation ended all too soon. Trudging through so much snow for so long, had made us winter-weary, but it was time to look our best for those all-important graduation pictures, elect Senior Superlatives, continue work on the year book, and cheer on the basketball and hockey teams. Soon the strains of Gay Nineties' Songs could be heard almost any home room period, as we rehearsed for our Senior Musical on April 9 and 10. And we have still another important date to look forward to—May 14—the Senior Prom!

Time is marching on and we pause to pay tribute to our indefatigable principal. Mr. Hayden, who was ever willing and anxious to sympathize with, and help solves our problems. To our class adviser, Miss Ryan, we owe our profound thanks. She was always ready to help us out of our difficulties and never failed to come up with an original idea when we needed it. We'll always remember her sincere interest in us and how long and hard she worked to help make all our undertakings successful. Then, too, we thank our teachers for the kindness, thoughtfulness, and help they have given us. And now, it's almost graduation time. With sincere regret we must leave the familiar classes and teachers and classmates, and put them away with our memories.

Three years of time have passed—we are again at the threshold of Norwood High, facing, this time, in the opposite direction. Behind us lie the memorable, carefree years we have spent together, when "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay". A feeling of sadness embraces us as we pause to consider that what lies ahead for all of us will most certainly be a "new look" at life—with problems to be solved and successes to be achieved by us—the future citizens of our country—and we raise our heads, and with determination and confidence prepare to descend the stairs of Norwood High. Peabody Class History

At last—the day was here! The day when we gave a final lingering thought to our summer romances and turned all our attention to the return to school. Ah! but it wasn't the same as the years gone by. Now—we were seniors!

How we played 'big sister' to the little sophomores at the Welcome Tea! Then we cleaned out all our bureau drawers and brought in all the odds and ends to sell for the 'Cause' at the White Elephant Sale. With colder weather came Thanksgiving and our delicious turkey dinner, including all the trimmings. After a much needed vacation we came back with added vigor. So much vigor in fact, that we immediately started in on our plans for the Christmas Sale and Tea. In keeping with the holiday spirit, each student contributed some handiwork to make this affair successful. As we neared that time of year when everyone is in high spirits for the Natal Day of Christ, a Christmas tableaux was presented under the expert supervision of Miss Page and Mrs. Goepner, after which the departments returned to their workrooms for the Christmas Party. When we returned from our all too brief vacation, we organized several theatre parties to see "Oklahoma," "Show Boat," and "Carousel." The opera "Rigoletto" was enjoyed by all as was "H. M. S. Pinafore." The Ballet Russe gave us all a feeling of elation that helped us out of our mid-winter slump.

Soon after this our Bakery had its grand opening. The purpose of this was to teach the girls to meet the public with ease and confidence. The girls on the Student Co-operative Association were invited to dinner at Miss Marcionette's home. They also enjoyed the presentation of "Dear Ruth" put on by the Walpole Footlighters in Medfield. Milder weather brought a touch of 'the' fever, and many an unfortunate was caught gazing wistfully out of the window during class. Along with May came the "Spring Styles" which were expertly presented at Open House. The 'new look' along with the oh's and ah's of the visitors as they inspected the styles and handiwork of the students were pleasing to our ego.

Things were rather rushed after this for graduation was not too far distant. What with rehearsals and finishing up school work, our annual picnic was a welcome diversion. Following right on its heels came the Step Party and Class Day.

And now—a final lingering thought to graduation before we turn all our attention to the future. . .

SPRING FORMAL

Our Spring Formal was held at the school on April 2, 1948. The hall was decorated to represent April Showers with streamers of flowers suspended from the ceiling.

Vin Perry's orchestra was the main attraction. Other features were the Grand March, a delicious buffet supper and a very unique punch bowl.

THE LOUNGE ROOM

As early as 1944, the Peabody girls began to dream about a special room of their own.

With co-operation of the boys of the Vocational School the Student Committee studied fabric samples and furniture designs. They voted to adopt functional modern lines set against a background of soft grey spiked with chartreuse and rose.

A sectional unit sofa with bookcase arm rests affords an ideal setting for informal study or group discussions. A jumbo coffee table and four small upholstered stools are finished in the bleached grey stain that is typical of all furniture in the room.

Beauty Culture

Beauty Culture has attained the mature status of a well regulated business today. It is more than necessary that beauty operators be skilled in their profession to enjoy the great opportunities offered them.

Foods Department

Dietetics and food management is rapidly becoming a major profession in the industrial, medical, and every day life of a community today. The food department of our school offers great opportunities for training in this essential subject.

Dressmaking

The opportunities for dressmaking envelop a large field for skill and individuality. The courses in dressmaking offered by the Peabody School enhance the opportunities to develop knowledge and self-reliance in the student.

Art Department

Art in business is rapidly forging to the front in most lines of industry today. Students can develop their talent for art in this excellent course which is offered at our school.

Business

An intelligent appreciation of the background of the positions available in the business field, as well as the necessary skills to perform these jobs, is an essential requirement of well-trained students of business. The integration of knowledge and skills form an integral part of the graduate's preparation for her life work.

The Forty-Niners

September third saw the '49ers on the march toward Norwood High, bent on unearthing more gold nuggets from our famous hilltop.

Imbued with spirit of the original '49ers, we set about to regulate the lives of the new "Minors", misguiding them with all the zest taught us last year by our predecessors, the present Seniors.

In our new-found dignity as Juniors, we turned our attention to making this year an outstanding one with John Poce as our President; Charles Fisher, Vice-President; Betty Pierpont, Secretary; Margie Williamson and Robert Ivatts, Treasurers; and Sally Assim and Arthur Turner, A. A. Council Representatives.

February brought the date of our big social event of the year, the Junior Promenade. True to tradition, we began digging again, this time through six-foot drifts of snow. But we were well rewarded for our efforts when we arrived at the rose-bedecked gym for an occasion that will be remembered by the class as one of its foremost successes.

Our gold strike for the year was our candidate for the School's Hall of Fame. Arthur Gulla, whose touchdowns supplied the highlight of the football season.

Now with our Junior year drawing to a close, as we approach our Senior days many of us are inclined to murmur, "Land o' mercy, can this be I?" M. H.

HOW GREEN IS YOUTH

A dense collage of black and white photographs showing various scenes of youth. The images include students in uniforms, couples, groups of friends, and individuals in costumes, illustrating the theme "How Green Is Youth". The photos are arranged in a non-linear, overlapping fashion, creating a sense of a memory album or a scrapbook. The subjects are diverse, representing different aspects of teenage life and social interactions.

Half-Century Notes

How adult, superior and sophisticated we felt in September as we at last entered the sacred portals of the Senior High School! Dressed in our best we strutted through the arcade to the gym where we were assigned to our new home rooms. There our dreams of omnipotence began to fade as Mr. Hayden stressed the importance of study and told us, in effect, that Sophomores should be seen and not heard. The upperclassmen contributed to this sudden deflating of our egos by giving us wrong directions and laughing at our confusion.

Eventually, however, we began to feel quite at home on the hill and we learned to love it. We elected as class officers the following capable corps:

President	FRANK MALACARIA
Vice-President	NANCY PEARSON
Secretary	DOROTHY STEPANOVICH
Girls' Treasurer	PATRICIA MARONEY
Boys' Treasurer	FRED FEAVER
A. A.	CONNIE WEISUL and DICK JORDANO

Our most outstanding event of the year, the Sophomore Party, turned out to be very successful. The rendition of "Temptation" by Patty Donahue and Genevieve Tomershea, and the "New Look", as modeled by some sophomore sharpies, were the outstanding factors.

As our baby year draws to a close, we find ourselves once more blessed with that feeling of superiority. And why not? Haven't we survived the hardest year?

ADVISER

Mrs. Florence Riley

In comparison with high schools of our own size, and with those considerably larger, our Student Council definitely comes under the characterization of a "go-getting, big-time organization." This year we attended four all-day Student Council conferences at Milton Academy, Hyde Park, Woburn, and New Bedford, only to come home with a feeling of pride and satisfaction that we have a fine Council, a progressive school and a sympathetic co-operative faculty. Both public and private schools met at Milton Academy and the New Bedford conference was attended by hundreds of schools in the State Student Council Division of which Jack Coughlin is secretary. The Eastern Mass. group, of which Jack Monbouquette is Vice-President, met at Hyde Park and later at Woburn, where Diane Weisul and Earle Legge led a discussion group.

The Council is comprised of thirty-five members, with our energetic, progressive adviser, Mrs. Riley, serving in this capacity for the third consecutive year. One of our first ventures was the publication of football programs in the form of miniature news-sheets, a project which netted a total profit of $262.02. During the football season, the sale of souvenir football pins produced $31.00.

This year the council has been in charge of three dances. The annual Football Dance added $122.10 to our treasury. At the request of Mr. Hayden, we took complete charge of the mammoth Halloween party subsidized by the town. The King and Queen Tiot Dance, which took place April 30, brought the council $71.85. Original and effective decorations, excellent music, and a large and well-pleased crowd characterized all these dances.

An assembly committee, with Earle Legge as chairman, was appointed to plan the assembly program for the year with Mr. Hayden. Home room contributions and a $100 donation by the Council set up an assembly fund to cover the expenses of the program which merits the approbation of everyone.

The Christmas spirit that pervaded the halls of Norwood High was enhanced by the gay decorations engineered by the members of the Council with the excellent assistance of the Gracious Living classes. There was a wreath on every door, Christmas trees, a beautiful crib, and lunch room decorations. An album of Christmas records was purchased and played each day during the noon period of the week prior to Christmas. The two loudspeakers in the lunch room were purchased for the radio-phonograph, so that it could be heard above the noise and clatter that characterize all lunch-rooms.

On May 21, the Council will take over the entire first balcony of Symphony Hall for the annual "Norwood Night at Pops".

A bronze memorial plaque to commemorate those graduates of Norwood High who gave their lives in World War II will be the gift of the Council of 1948 to the school. P. L.

Traffic

"Oh, to be a traffic officer!" is often the lament of many an underclassman. For here at Norwood High, you're not "in circulation" unless you're on "circulation". Instead of being a routine duty as in most schools, it's an honor and pleasure for Seniors to become one of the squad by popular vote. At first, we could see only the advantage of leaving class before the bell, but as time went on, we realized the responsibility that was ours, and we united our efforts to promote a more efficient handling of traffic. To be sure, many of the traffic officers may have been the worst traffic offenders in their undergrad days but — as Themistocles said,

"The wildest colts make the best horses!"

Football

Coach Orlando Scafati again led our team through a successful season with the assistance of Mr. John Sullivan and Mr. Martin O'Donnell. The boys turned out in true Norwood fashion in mid-August. During the grueling weeks of drill the aspirants for the team dwindled a little, but a strong, and aggressive eleven was ready for the first game. Henry Trusevitch captained the team and filled the fullback position.

Against adverse odds the team romped to victory over Needham to open the season 13-0. Framingham High proved its strength in the next encounter and downed the locals by a slight edge. The boys went on to win over Braintree by a 6-0 score. Pawtucket East, a strong aggregation went on to win over Norwood, the following weekend, in a close contest. Natick High proved better "mudders" than Norwood and won 22-6. Cambridge Latin then felt the discouraging end of a 12-0 encounter with the Blue and White, and Norwood met North Quincy with hopes of an upset. However, the play of the Class C title contenders was too much. Finally on Thanksgiving Day, the Norwood warriors, despite gallant efforts, bowed to their arch rivals of Dedham and thus closed a season of four victories and six losses. J. M.

Basketball

The accomplishments of this year's team are to be ranked among the highest of Norwood High. Sparked by Captain "Butch" Walsh and forward Arthur Gulla, the team rolled up a record of eleven wins and only three defeats. Outstanding players on the squad were guards, Pete Lasinskas and Anthony Gulla, who broke up the opponents' offensive thrusts time and again. Diminutive but eagle-eyed Johnny Poce filled the other forward slot and threw in many a crucial basket. Coach Scafati employed the old 1-2 punch by sending in the "Texans". This group consisted of five men none of whom measured under six feet and who specialized in zone defense. Adding their share of baskets to the totals, the Texans were: forwards, Bob Young and Amos Dixon, guards Bill Bamber and Art Turner and center "Big Jim" Singleton. Forward Richie Tamulonis led many a rally with his aggressive playing.

Placing second in the league, the Norwood Hoopsters defeated all opponents at least once. Their upset victory over league-leading Milton showed the fighting spirit they possessed. Their two victories over Dedham made them high men with us all.

Track

With Coach Wheeler at the helm, the class of '48 has done wonders in making track one of the school's most successful sports. Despite the inclement weather the squad has swiftly rounded into shape. So far their record is two wins and a second place. The performances in many events have been outstanding and the quality of the competitors is such that many records are tottering precariously on edge.

This year for the first time in seven years, an indoor track team was formed and at the State Meet took fourth place in Class D competition.

HOCKEY

Starting off the season with a two and two record, the Norwood High Hockey Team launched its seventh year as a Bay State mainstay. Under the guidance of the new mentor, Zark Amirault the team showed considerable promise for the six remaining games. The team had but three lettermen back, but Coach Amirault was fortunate in having a Junior line of Arthur Vietze, Charles Fisher, and Ray Amirault. The first line consisted of Henry Trusevitch, John McDonough and Captain Jack Monbouquette, while on defense were Buddy Gordon, and Flash Flaherty, with Bob Hamlin in the cage.

The team is to be commended for its fine showing in sportsmanship and play despite the lack of facilities for practice. With indoor skating rinks inaccessible, and with outdoor skating space covered with tons of snow, Dame Nature proved no ally in what started out to be an auspicious season. C'est la vie! J. M.

BASEBALL

It was obvious at the beginning of the season that this year's team was not as strong as last year's Bay State champions because they were left without any experienced pitchers, but under Captains Dicky Meeers and Butch Walsh, they were determined to make a good showing.

At the halfway mark in the season Norwood had won four games (Framingham 7-4, Needham 4-2, Wellesley 16-1, and Dedham 3-2) and lost three (Natick 9-4, Walpole 9-7, and Milton 10-4).

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Rear—Anderson, Curran, Lynch, Zaruba, Donahue, Hamilton.

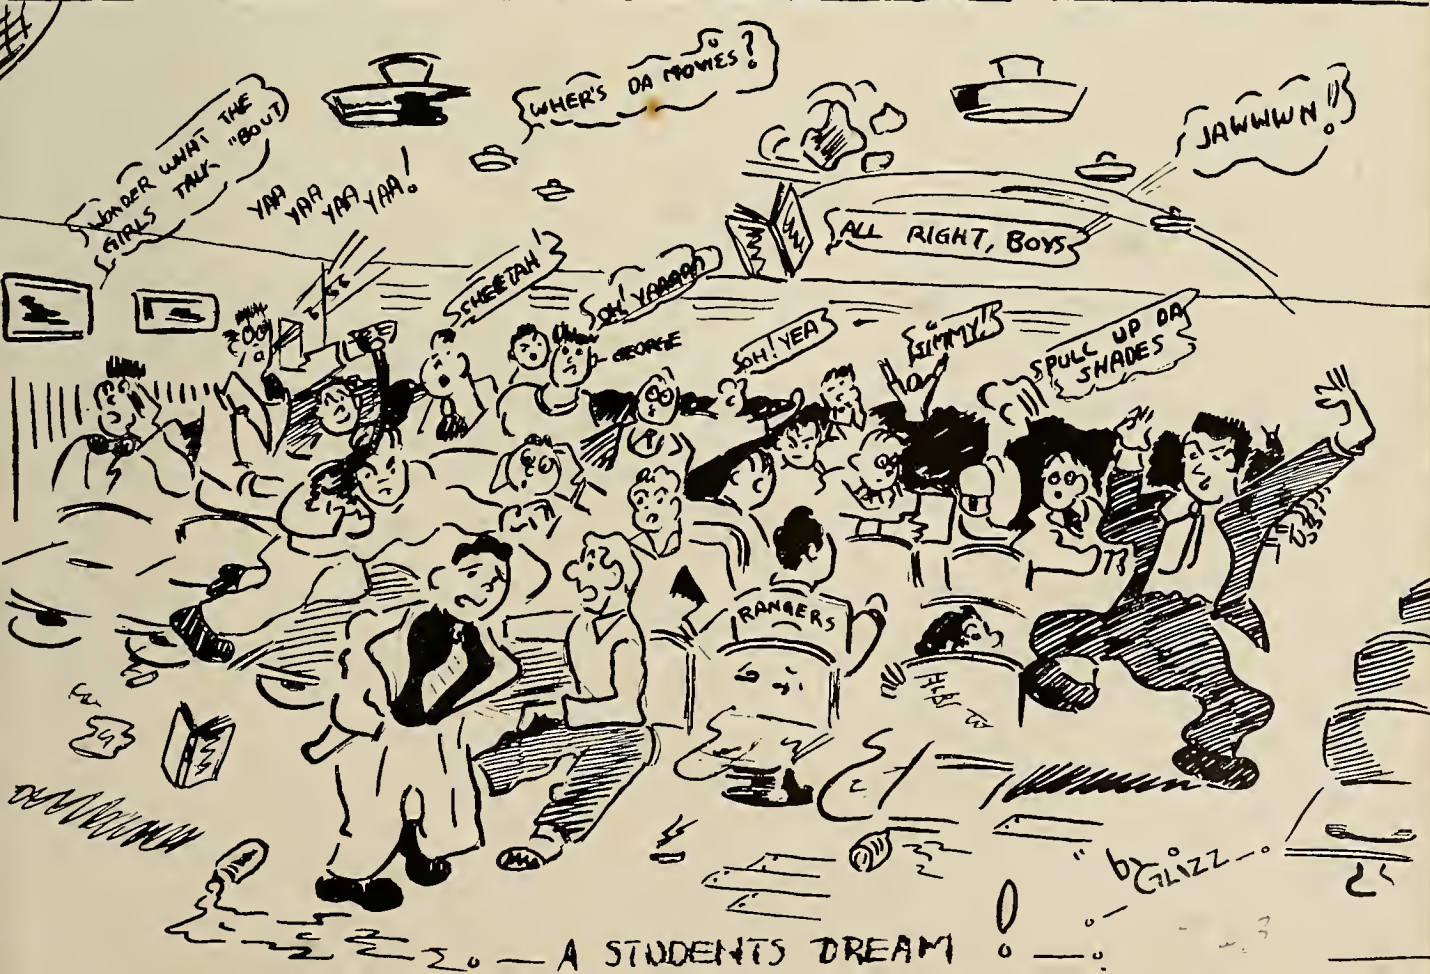

Front—Chandler, Murphy, Capt. Bianchini, Burns, Destito.

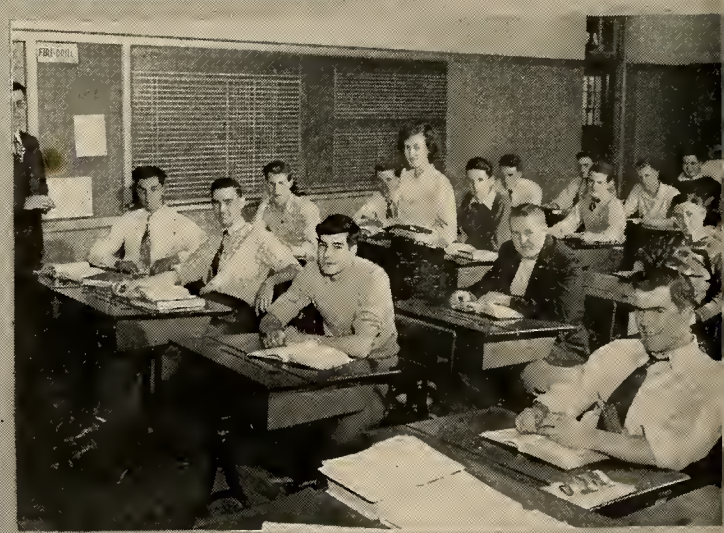

GIRLS' TENNIS

-oCLASS WILL-o-

We the graduating class of Norwood Senior High School, being both mentally and physically sound, do hereby devise and bequeath this, our last will and testament and do hereby declare null and void any testaments heretofore set forth in our name.

— And we do humbly beseech and implore those from whom we have, in the past, had to beg, borrow, or steal to graciously and generously forgive and forget, for though we glitter, we have little gold.

Article I- To Mr. Hayden our admiration for his undeviating sense of justice and his ability to see our point of view.

Article II- To the faculty our gratitude and sympathy, realizing well all their trouble getting us mentally "curried" and "combed" for life's race.

Article III- To Miss Ryan we leave a banner to the advisor who made '48 a banner year.

Article IV- To Mrs. Riley we leave the "mostest" and "bestest" of everything, you're our super-superlative.

Article V- To the janitors we leave our sincere sympathy for all the work we have caused.
Article VI- To the school we have

Article VI. Jack Coughlin's unique ability to "judge" the sharpest from the loudest socks to Fred Ritvo.

Article VII. Connie Hurney's anthology entitled "I Didn't Do My Homework Because" to Margaret Frates who seems to have enough material of her own to write a sequel.

Article VIII. The Sparkie club charter and supplies to those Junior girls who look to the light and keep the home fires burning.

Article IX. Louise Reardon's seat in the aeronautics class to any girl who feels the urge to take to the "wild blue yonder."

Article X. Jean King's ever-ready answers to Miss Morrison.

Article XI. Buddy Gordon's quiet corner in the lunch room to Mr. O'Donnell's future favorites.

Article XII. Cy's taste for the "Sweater-to-look-better-in-order-to-get-her" to Winnie "Sweater Boy" Cushman.

Article XIII. Clothespins to the underclassmen to prevent the inhalation of those foul aromas resulting from the inevitable chemistry accidents.

Article XIV. Gloria Bianchini's know-how of making and keeping friends to Janet Nugent.

Article XV. To Bobby Williamson and Benjy Korslund cushions for a softer seat in detention.

Article XVI. Homeroom 204's reputation to the members of 212—they seem to be very capable of fulfilling it.

Article XVII. Olga Zaruba's driving ability to next year's safety classes. It will be a fine example of what not to do.

Article XVIII. Dottie Walker's corny jokes to anyone who would dare repeat them.

Article XIX. Warren Johnson's salesmanship to the advertising staff of the '49

Tiot. Maybe they'll even be able to make money.

Article XX. The wolfish gleam in Donnie Lawrence's eye to Walter Glynn.

Article XXI. A few inches of Kenny "Stretch" Colby's height to Arthur "Shorty" Turner.

Article XXII. The athletic ability of our three letter men to the hopefuls of the lower classes.

Article XXIII. Dorothy Lockwood's date book to anyone who thinks she can handle it.

Article XXIV. Clem "Dead Eye" Walker's gun to Billy Crimmins. Maybe this will keep Billy from drawing guns all over his papers.

Article XXV. Citty Destito's quiet, unassuming manner to Betsy Curran.

Article XXVI. Scotty and Fraser's shenanigans to any two Juniors who think they can use them and not get expelled from dear old N. H. S..

Article XXVII. Patty Blanchot's steady fire of chatter to any sopohomore who is fast enough to catch up to Patty in order to take over.

Article XXVIII. A massive filing cabinet to the Tiot Room—now maybe someone will be able to find something in that place. One for 211, too.

Article XXIX. To our successors the right to occupy the center aisles at assemblies. May they one day be as worthy of them as we were.

In Witness Whereof, we have subscribed our names and affixed our seal, this fifteenth of June, in the year of our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Forty-eight.
